Moving from Endings to New Beginnings

Saturday, July 28 at 6:30 PM

following the 5:30 service

Life changes whether we like it or not. We need strategies and communities who help us cope with the difficult times in our lives. Come to a class to talk about how endings become beginnings in our individual lives as well as in a church community.

Pastor Kari is offering a class for those who were unable to come when she offered the class on Sundays in June.

All are welcome on Saturday evening, July 28, after worship at 6:30 in the fellowship hall.

The class will last about an hour.

Bring your own dinner (BYOD) and snacks to share.

Coffee & lemonade will be offered.

Proceeds go to help support the Holy Shepherd Youth

Connecting in Ministry & Witness

Eben Ezer Lutheran Care Center in its operations as a faith based benevolent, charitable, non-profit organization observes Christian values in carrying out their purpose. Eben Ezer provides programs and services to persons regardless of pay source and does not limit the number of persons receiving Medicaid benefits. They are one of only three not-for-profit assisted living communities, one of two not-for-profit nursing homes, and the only not-for-profit provider of in-home services in the six county region of northeast Colorado – a region that covers over 9,200 square miles.

Their values serve as a driving foundation for decision making and how they conduct themselves and their business.

At Eben Ezer they value:

- Their Christian heritage and support a loving, spiritual climate.
- Residents as individuals and promote their self-determination.
- Responsible stewardship of their resources.
- Shared responsibility among residents, families, staff and the board, through personal accountability and involvement in decision making.
- Continuous growth and development of all.
- Strong, consistent leadership through clear communication and trust.
- Being an integral part of and mutually supportive of the larger communities.
- Their reputation as a leader in the healthcare industry.

Eben Ezer has initiated a new approach to long-term care that they call A Place Called Home. Based upon the Eden Alternative, developed by Harvard-educated geriatrician, Dr. William Thomas, A Place Called Home represents a shift from the traditional institutional nursing facility to a home environment that encourages companionship, meaningful activity, variety and spontaneity. Eben Ezer is implementing A Place Called Home through:

- Greater autonomy:
 - A choice of meal, bath and bed time
 - Access to snacks between meals
 - Inclusion of the residents in meal preparation
- Meaningful activities: Concerts in Denver, outings to local events, travel to Central City, hula dancers at the annual luau, animals from the Denver Zoo, dinner at local restaurants, Colorado Rockies games
- Intergenerational programs: Over 150 youth participate annually – reading, playing games, delivering ice water, making crafts, taking walks, gardening, playing bingo and transporting residents to various activities Plants and animals and even a live-in Labradoodle, "Moses"
- Training programs, consistent assignments and increased input for the staff
- A "Neighborhood Model" for living

The "Neighborhood Model" is a critical component of the Eden Alternative. At Eben Ezer, the home has been divided into four small communities or neighborhoods: Sommerlyst, Deaconess, Nazareth and Bethany. Each neighborhood has common living, dining and kitchen areas to promote companionship among residents. In addition, each neighborhood has its own nursing and housekeeping staff to provide familiar, consistent and nurturing care – and residents and staff are included in neighborhood decision making. Time spent together creates very close relationships between the caregivers and those in their care, deep and enduring friendships that make life a more joyful experience. The sense of community encouraged by the "Neighborhood Model" translates to improved life quality for the residents and heightened job satisfaction for the caregivers.
